

Effective Communicating™

Engage, persuade, and create the impact you want.

Achieve immediate impact in your communications effectiveness as a result of this workshop. Korn Ferry offers comprehensive and renowned programs to teach effective presentation and delivery skills with live practice, videos, coaching, and other tools, in a fast-paced, supportive environment.

Effective Communicating is an intense, comprehensive learning experience ideal for anyone who needs to be clear, concise, and persuasive when presenting ideas to colleagues, prospects, or clients.

Become more credible and convincing in every communication situation. Large group, face-to-face or voice-to-voice: you'll manage all of your communications with ease, with Effective Communicating.

Our focus is on connecting you, the speaker, with your audience. From gestures, movement, and posture, to voice, eye communication, and pausing techniques, you will discover how to better engage and involve your listeners. Plus, you will learn how to identify and eliminate the distracting behaviors that can cause your listeners to tune out.

Effective Communicating is designed to maximize individual and organizational learning investment through practice, video and peer feedback, and in-room coaching.

The two-day program features four content modules, extensive practice video recording, in-room coaching, and three private coaching sessions. The one-day programs use the same approaches but fewer modules and fewer or no private coaching sessions.

Whichever version of the program you choose, you will emerge with the tools to make all of your presentations more engaging, motivating, and effective.

Objectives

- Create and organize messages that motivate.
- Use voice, eye contact, gestures, and movement to maintain listener interest and demonstrate confidence.
- Identify and eliminate the distracting behaviors that can cause listeners to tune out.
