

Identify the right leaders to drive your business

How to assess fit - before the leader is in role

Global HR and business leaders have long cited leadership as a top talent issue. The Korn Ferry Real World Leadership Study* confirms this, with findings including:

- 63% of organizations say that a lack of well-suited traits and dispositions is the biggest cause for concern in failed promotions.
- Only 17% of organizations are confident that they have the right leadership to deliver on strategic priorities.
- Many new executives need at least six months to become fully productive in their roles; yet 53% of organizations expect optimal performance in less than six months.

Our Solution

Aimed at mid-level leaders and above, our solution harnesses the power of our best-in class Success Profiles to identify the readiness of individuals for immediate leadership positions. Designed to provide a clear view of leaders both within and external to the organization, it provides data-driven assessment insights into skills and personality fit with key leadership roles.

BENEFITS

For the organization:

- Confidently and accurately identify high-performing leaders using a scientific and data-driven approach.
- Understand your leadership talent pool to be able to place and promote the right individuals into the right roles to drive your business forward.
- Drive targeted and individualized leadership development focused on assessment insights.

For the individual:

- Gain insights on personal fit with specific leadership roles, development gaps, and how to close these.

How the assessments work:

- Individuals are assessed against a Success Profile of competencies, traits and drivers to provide targeted and detailed insights into fit to role.
- Success Profiles are our research-based and validated portfolio of what makes an individual successful in thousands of roles.
- Configurable to make them specific to a role, level or organizational outcome, Success Profiles enable you to identify the skills, characteristics and preferences of high performers.
- Assessment outputs provide deep, valuable insights about an individual and require trained interpretation.

What are the outputs?

- Interview guide - A tailored collection of interview questions, based on a participant's assessment responses, that provides a standardized interview approach.
- Candidate report with development - A broad and deep view of the participant to evaluate fit to role and priorities for development gaps to strengthen performance.
- Learning Agility report - Insight into the five factors of Learning Agility. This is the willingness and ability to learn from experience, and subsequently apply that learning to perform successfully under new conditions. In the increasingly dynamic and complex business environment, the ability to adapt and handle unforeseen situations effectively is more important than it has ever been.
- Risk factors - Risk factors may derail the participant from success in a role. A high score on a risk factor provides an early indicator that proactive development may be helpful.
- Individual report - A detailed view to provide a participant with feedback on their skills, characteristics and motivations - to build both general self-awareness and engagement with development opportunities.
